

Kyushu Institute of Technology Academic Repository Publication Utilization Consent Conditions

Aims

1. The aim of Kyushu Institute of Technology Academic Repository is to electronically collect, preserve and disseminate the research output of academic staff and postgraduate students at this university for supporting various education and study activities.

Public Access

2. Kyushu Institute of Technology Library (hereinafter referred to as the 'Library') reproduces research output (hereinafter 'electronic data') on the internet server and makes these materials accessible to the public.
3. Electronic data is made available on the information network in standard computing environment to make it freely accessible.
4. Electronic data can be searched using bibliographical information.

Terms of the use of electronic data

5. The Library observes following regulations concerning the use of electronic data.
 - (1) No modification in the article and/or the title may be made. However, parts that cannot be displayed properly in the condition of 4. may be abbreviated or displaced.
 - (2) The author's name and copyright notice are included in electronic data.
 - (3) The use of electronic data (printing/downloading) is limited to only research, teaching and study purposes.
6. Electronic data is disseminated both within and outside of Kyushu Institute of Technology.
7. Work must be available in full as an electronic data.
8. The Library shall not impose any kind of fees (e.g. licensing fees, pay-per-view fees).
9. The Library assumes no responsibility for the use of the electronic data.

Consent to use copyrighted work

10. Once the author has given consent to depositing his/her article in the repository, the author shall grant the Library permission to exercise the 'right of reproduction' and the 'right of public transmission'.
11. Where there are other copyright holders, the author is required to obtain their consent.
12. To avoid conflict concerning copyright, the author is required to consult with any other parties involved in advance.

Alternation of consent condition

13. Authors who wish to alter the consent condition must apply to the Library giving a reason.

Terminating consent condition

14. Authors who wish to terminate the consent condition must apply to the Library giving a reason.
15. If the content is assumed inappropriate, the Library shall notify the author of termination of the consent condition.

Others

16. Any matter not covered by these conditions shall be determined through consultation between the author and the Library as necessary.